<sup>1</sup>The MSCI AC Asia ex Japan NR Index is a free float-adjusted market capitalization weighted index that is designed to measure the equity market performance of Asia, excluding Japan. An investor cannot invest directly in an index. Net total return indices reinvest dividends after the deduction of withholding taxes, using (for international indices) a tax rate applicable to non-resident institutional investors who do not benefit from double taxation treaties.

<sup>2</sup>Active share – Percentage of shares in a portfolio that differs from the benchmark index.

Data source for below characteristics: Zephyr StyleADVISOR

<sup>3</sup>Alpha – Measures the difference between a fund's actual returns and its expected performance, given its level of risk as measured by beta.

<sup>4</sup>Beta – Measure of systematic risk with respect to a benchmark. The beta of a market is 1.00 by definition.

<sup>5</sup>Sharpe Ratio – Is a risk-adjusted performance statistic that measures reward per unit of risk. The higher the Sharpe Ratio, the better a fund's risk adjusted performance.

<sup>6</sup>Load-Waived Shares. Not all investors are eligible to purchase load-waived shares. Please call (888) 335-3417 to learn more about eligibility for the load-waived A share class. Ratings and other statistics for load-waived versions of the class A shares of mutual funds reflect the investor experience for those individuals who do not pay the funds' front-end sales load, such as retirement-plan participants or those investors who commit to invest above a certain amount. The load-waived rating supplements the Morningstar Rating™ for the original A share class, where all load-adjusted measures reflect the maximum front load. Load-waived A shares are displayed and treated like a separate share class, and most data is the same between the original A share and the load-waived A share. The statistics that are different include load-adjusted measures, such as the Morningstar Rating, rating-related scores and returns, tax-adjusted returns and any percentile ranks based on these measures. To be eligible for load-waived ratings and returns, the fund must be an A share class, must have a front load and must be domiciled in the United States. Morningstar does not calculate load-waived ratings for B and C share classes because fund companies rarely waive the loads on these funds.
