¹The MSCI AC Asia ex Japan NR Index is a free float-adjusted market capitalization weighted index that is designed to measure the equity market performance of Asia, excluding Japan. An investor cannot invest directly in an index. Net total return indices reinvest dividends after the deduction of withholding taxes, using (for international indices) a tax rate applicable to non-resident institutional investors who do not benefit from double taxation treaties.

²Active share – Percentage of shares in a portfolio that differs from the benchmark index. Source: FactSet

³Alpha – Measures the difference between a fund's actual returns and its expected performance, given its level of risk as measured by beta.

⁴Beta – Measure of systematic risk with respect to a benchmark. The beta of a market is 1.00 by definition.

⁵Sharpe Ratio – Is a risk-adjusted performance statistic that measures reward per unit of risk. The higher the Sharpe Ratio, the better a fund's risk adjusted performance.

The information contained herein: (1) is proprietary to Morningstar; (2) may not be copied or distributed; and (3) is not warranted to be accurate, complete or timely. Neither Morningstar nor its content providers are responsible for any damages or losses arising from any use of this information. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. The Morningstar Rating™ for funds, or "star rating", is calculated for managed products (including mutual funds, variable annuity and variable life subaccounts, exchange-traded funds, closed-end funds, and separate accounts) with at least a three-year history. Exchange-traded funds and open-ended mutual funds are considered a single population for comparative purposes. It is calculated based on a Morningstar Risk-Adjusted Return measure that accounts for variation in a managed product's monthly excess performance, placing more emphasis on downward variations and rewarding consistent performance. The top 10% of products in each product category receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars, the next 22.5% receive 2 stars, and the bottom 10% receive 1 star. The Overall Morningstar Rating for a managed product is derived from a weighted average of the performance figures associated with its three-, five-, and 10-year (if applicable) Morningstar Rating metrics. The weights are: 100% three-year rating for 36-59 months of total returns, 60% five-year rating/40% three-year rating for 60-119 months of total returns, and 50% 10-year rating/30% five-year rating/20% three-year rating for 120 or more months of total returns. While the 10-year overall star rating formula seems to give the most weight to the 10-year period, the most recent three-year period actually has the greatest impact because it is included in all three rating periods.

⁷Load-Waived Shares. Not all investors are eligible to purchase load-waived shares. Please call (888) 335-3417 to learn more about eligibility for the load-waived A share class. Ratings and other statistics for load-waived versions of the class A shares of mutual funds reflect the investor experience for those individuals who do not pay the funds' front-end sales load, such as retirement-plan participants or those investors who commit to invest above a certain amount. The load-waived rating supplements the Morningstar Rating™ for the original A share class, where all load-adjusted measures reflect the maximum front load. Load-waived A shares are displayed and treated like a separate share class, and most data is the same between the original A share and the load-waived A share. The statistics that are different include load-adjusted measures, such as the Morningstar Rating, rating-related scores and returns, tax-adjusted returns and any percentile ranks based on these measures. To be eligible for load-waived ratings and returns, the fund must be an A share class, must have a front load and must be domiciled in the United States. Morningstar does not calculate load-waived ratings for B and C share classes because fund companies rarely waive the loads on these funds.

Past performance is no guarantee of future results.
